HARD & HEAVY METAL FROM ATHENS, GREECE

Following a Sold-Out Hometown Show | UK & Balkans Tours Upcoming Late 2026

LATEST NEWS & CURRENT CYCLE

The "Precarious" Era & Ongoing Tours (2026-2027)

Following the release of their debut album, "Precarious", Deus Culpa is maintaining a rigorous and highly active schedule. In early 2026, the band successfully completed their first European Tour (UK, Austria, Czech Republic, Poland, and Hungary), proving their ability to engage international audiences and deliver a tight, professional set night after night.

Returning home, they celebrated the album's release with a headlining show in Athens (March 2026). The event was officially sold out and received excellent feedback, cementing Deus Culpa as one of the most compelling and hard-working live acts in the Greek metal scene.

Focused on expanding their live footprint, the band is already preparing to hit the road again. Deus Culpa will return to the UK for a run of dates in August 2026, followed by an Eastern European tour through Bulgaria and Romania in December 2026. With more live dates and plans taking shape for 2027, the band is actively seeking festival slots to bring their music to wider audiences.

PRESS QUOTES & REVIEWS

*"Deus Culpa delivers a modern metal set that plays with the contrast between uplifting melodies and socially conscious lyrics. The band, already known for their impressive and highly energetic live shows, returned to the stage and did it with absolute style."
(translated) – Depart.gr (Live Review)*

"The band gave their best, giving another excellent live performance, opening this night in the best way possible. A band that has given their credentials several times and their dynamics were just what was needed to introduce the event!" – Metalwar.gr (Live Review)

BIOGRAPHY & ORIGINS

Deus Culpa was formed in the heart of Athens in 2019 by Nikrod (Nick Tsiampaos) and Lorentzo Buhagier. They introduced themselves to the scene with the Hard Rock/Metal EP "Roots" (March 2021). Despite the tumultuous backdrop of the COVID-19 pandemic, the release garnered global attention for its energy.

Drawing inspiration from the world around them, the band's lyrics confront modern injustice with unyielding resolve, balanced by slivers of hope for a brighter future. Deus Culpa's music serves as a rallying cry for change, embodying the belief that unity and optimism can light the way forward.

Armed with their well-received debut album "Precarious", a solidified lineup, and a proven track record of reliable, high-energy live performances, Deus Culpa is focused on consistent growth and touring.
